Exceptional Catalonia

Catalonia is the perfect place to enjoy all the exclusive and gratifying experiences you can imagine.

Luxury consists of unique sensations and small details. Like Catalonia. This beautiful and sun-blessed Mediterranean country, one of the world’s major tourist destinations, offers thousands of proposals driven by excellence: select and comfortable accommodation, the best author’s cuisine, fashion and jewellery by prestigious brands, culture with a Capital C, the most exciting sports, charming hidden corners, the personalised touch, countless services to choose from... Catalonia offers that extra quality and distinction.
Catalonia’s uniqueness is patent in the elegant avenues and squares of its dynamic capital, Barcelona, the spectacular rocky coastlines of the Costa Brava, the long sandy beaches and crystal-clear waters of the Costa Daurada, the Maresme or Ebro Delta, the forests and fields of the central plain, the snow-capped mountain peaks of the Pyrenees or the heart of its dormant volcanoes. The lands of Catalonia are full of natural parks and areas - eighteen in fact - two of which are also Biosphere Reserves. In the social and human aspect, Catalonia is a land of age-old traditions. At the same time, it exudes modernity, cosmopolitanism and a very keen creative and innovative spirit. Despite its diverse nature, Catalonia still maintains its deeply-rooted personality as a nation, with its own autonomous government inside Spain - the Generalitat - a common history and its own millennial language, Catalan.

Catalonia is concealed in a special magic which over time has inspired great artists such as Gaudí, Miró, Dalí or Picasso. Culture is omnipresent in all its splendour, in the huge and spectacular heritage of the land’s museums and monuments, with ten official UNESCO World Heritage sites and traditions. The country’s cuisine has also reached art status thanks to the untiring work of other geniuses, men and women who sweat over stoves and ovens, the master architects of the fusion of the flavours of the sea and the mountains. And to wash these gastronomic delights down, the country’s excellent wines and caves, which have won awards all over the world. Catalonia’s mark is also seen in trade and business, as it organises important trade fairs such as the Mobile World Congress or the 080 Barcelona Fashion show. The most exciting leisure activities, of which the PortAventura theme resort is a leading example, plus a wide range of sports - golf, sailing, tennis, skiing, motor... - round off a comprehensive and captivating tourist offer.

Sea and mountains, city and countryside, peace and quiet and hustle and bustle... Catalonia’s duality converges upon a basic point: distinction.
Catalonia’s charms are offered through an extensive and select repertoire of initiatives and high-end tourism services, just waiting to be enjoyed. And the fact is that in Catalonia everything is always nearby, thanks to an excellent communications network that boasts four international airports, motorways and roads connected to the rest of Spain and Europe, a modern high-speed railway line, two luxury cruise liner ports - the port of Barcelona is the continent’s most important in terms of number of passengers - forty-three marinas and tourist resorts with all the necessary amenities and services, six water sports centres, heliports to the country’s major tourist spots...

For all these reasons, plus many more, Catalonia is a veritable pleasure.
Comfort

Catalonia offers an endless range of accommodation with an exquisite service. All you need to do is make your choice, relax and enjoy it.

A magnificent modernist palace, a luminous seaside villa, a modern designer hotel, an imposing castle or a small rural farmhouse full of details. The Catalan region offers an exclusive range of 5-star and luxury hotels, Relais & Chateaux and other establishments belonging to the best local and international chains. They offer guests the stay of their dreams and a wide array of carefully-selected services: exclusive suites, pillow menus, gourmet experiences, spas, beauty and cosmetic treatments, exclusive leisure and entertainment, personalised tours, spectacular views, the latest communication technologies...

Catalan cuisine is a veritable festival of pleasurable sensations. Fish and seafood, rice dishes, dried fruit and sweets, pastries, cold meats, cheeses... The huge variety of Catalan food and agricultural products is to be found in select delicatessen shops and the most distinguished restaurants, which boast numerous Michelin stars, as these pages show. These and numerous other quality awards and distinctions endorse the excellence of the country's cuisine. Some examples are the award-winning chef Ferran Adrià, regarded as “the best chef in the world”, and the El Celler de Can Roca restaurant in Girona, recently voted the “best restaurant in the world” by the prestigious and specialised British Restaurant Magazine.

There is no doubt that the fame of the chefs and the culinary products of Catalonia has crossed borders. This is further borne out by the fact that its extra virgin olive oils have become an essential ingredient in the Nobel Prize banquets, where they share the table with prime examples of worldwide excellence.
Boasting three Michelin stars, and voted the best restaurant in the world in 2013, El Celler de Can Roca’s cooking style is free-ranging, committed to the avant-garde, albeit without relinquishing the heritage of several generations of ancestors of a family dedicated to feeding people.

El Celler de Can Roca, the world’s best restaurant

Located in Girona, the Celler was originally a small concern run by Josep Roca and Montse Fontané, the Roca brothers’ parents. El Celler de Can Roca is now managed by the three brothers, and is the result of the evolution of a family that has been engaged in the restaurant trade for many generations. A commitment to cooking and the avant-garde, and the brothers’ link with academia, has led them to defend the dialogue between the countryside and science, a total dialogue.
Committed to quality and originality

Located in Sant Pol de Mar, the Sant Pau-Carme Ruscalleda restaurant uses only the best market produce, mainly from the Maresme area. The restaurant has garnered the loyalty of the general public and professional recognition thanks to its free-style cuisine, based on Catalan culinary tradition, and a gastronomic style of its own.

The Restaurant Lasarte in the Hotel Condes de Barcelona opened in January 2006, and three years later, in November 2009, it had already chalked up its second Michelin star. Lasarte is much more than the gastronomic commitment of the chef Martin Berasategui to Barcelona. This project is soulfully seasoned by the best professionals, who form a team that seeks utmost diner satisfaction with every aroma and flavour, in every meal.

Starring local products

Paolo Casagrande is the boss in the kitchen, with an enthusiasm that combines Martín Berasategui’s classic dishes and in-house and innovative proposals created especially for Lasarte, and where local products are always the star of the show. Joan Carles Ibáñez and his team are the kitchen’s ambassadors in the dining room.
Restaurant Les Cols, seasonal cuisine inspired by the rural setting of La Garrotxa: sober but essential, austere and humble, but intuitive, intimate and authentic. A cuisine that mirrors the way we are. Local, but also with the ability to open up to the world, aspiring to be universal through that highly intimate space. The splendour of nature. The plenitude of life.

Seasonal cuisine inspired by the rural setting of La Garrotxa

Managed since 1990 by Fina Puigdevall, owner and chef of the restaurant, which is located in the farmhouse where she was born. Her cuisine says a lot with very few ingredients, and her culinary offer is rooted in the land and the surrounding landscape. The tasting menu taps into her kitchen garden and chicken run, all driven by the ethos of sustainable cuisine. There is also la Carpa Les Cols for banquets, celebrations and conventions.

Miramar and Paco Pérez cannot be understood without their surrounds, which contain the essence of their meaning. Enclaved in Cape Creus, the easternmost point of the Iberian Peninsula, where the Mediterranean sea bathes the shores of Llançà, a small fisherman’s town where Paco Pérez grew up. In the centre of the promenade lies the family business where Paco Pérez has nurtured his talent and made the restaurant a worldwide reference.

Gourmet dining with two Michelin Stars

High-quality products procured by Paco Pérez himself, from an ideal environment which he knows like the back of his hand. There are two proposals. A tasting menu, transgressive and joyful, seeking to respect the meaning of the moment, and an à la carte option with traditional dishes and small technical details, permanently striving for ongoing improvement. Cellar with more than 600 wines.

The excellence of Catalan cuisine

The Chef Carme Ruscalleda and her team procure the best seasonal ingredients every day to create dishes whose inspiration stems from the flavours and history of traditional Catalan cooking. Our à la carte menu is complemented by a delicious tasting menu with wine pairing and an anti-aging lunch menu designed to restore inner balance and slow down the aging process.
Non-traditional Catalan restaurant

Alkimia, which heralds his consolidation on the national and international scene, has two tasting menus. One is Alkimia, which features more innovative dishes, and the other is De Tradicions, which, as its name suggests, is more traditional. You can also dine seasonally à la carte and enjoy its wide selection of desserts.

Restaurant Angle Barcelona

Restaurant Angle Barcelona is managed by the award-winning Chef Jordi Cruz. In June 2013, it relocated to the Hotel Cram, driven by the same philosophy, in order to help customers to enjoy its creations with all their senses. It offers a cuisine based on memory, creativity and product. It has room for up to 50 guests. The restaurant facilities are complemented by two rooms for private events for up to 10 and 60 people, respectively.

Tradition and modernity

The Chef Jordi Cruz, aided by a team of young professionals, pursues a culinary philosophy that seeks to add a touch of modernity to tradition with the help of premium-quality products. Driven by common goals, he seeks to clearly convey the hidden messages in his recipes. Exquisite à la carte dining or an elaborate tasting menu, veritable gastronomic jewels, all washed down by select wines and an excellent service.
Committed to memory and evolution

This gastronomic proposal taps into the essence of the traditional cooking of the Empordà, where experience and creativity, plus only the best ingredients, set off by a good wine cellar and an exquisite professional approach make for a result that leaves nobody indifferent.

The Bo.TiC, with seven tables and 24 seats, is on the road between La Bisbal and Corça. At the end of 2009 its cuisine and service reaped the reward of its first Michelin Star. Its cuisine is meticulous, elaborate, and committed to memory and evolution.

Can Jubany, Nandu Jubany’s gastronomic restaurant, proposes a journey based on the flavours of the land to discover a new concept in taste. Located in a traditional Catalan farmhouse, and awarded a Michelin star and three Repsol Soles, the restaurant is committed to using local and seasonal produce, mostly from the chef’s own gardens and orchards in front of the restaurant. The Can Jubany experience is about getting to know Catalonia through the sense of taste.

Traditional Catalan cooking, reinvented to become the cuisine of the senses

Can Jubany’s à la carte menu is constantly updated to honour its commitment to local and seasonal products, and also boasts a further two menus: the tasting and season menus, two journeys through Jubany’s gastronomy and through the world of the senses. Comerç 24 cooks up small versions of our contemporary cuisine concept without losing sight of our roots.

Passion for tapas

The Comerç 24 restaurant has had a Michelin star since 2007. Its chef is Carles Abellan, who currently owns several restaurants in Barcelona, such as Tapas 24, el Bravo 24, el Suculent, Les Guinguetes de la Barceloneta and Bogatell. Carlos’ passion are tapas! As he himself says, it’s in my DNA!

The cuisine of Albert Raurich, former kitchen manager of Ferran Adrià’s El Bulli

It is a new concept that seeks to merge the philosophy of our tapas with Asian tapas, two different cultures that both use a form of wooden sticks. Orientals use chopsticks to pick up small pieces of food, whereas in our bars the toothpick is the king of the tapa. Two basic, rudimentary and wooden utensils that have given us our name: Dos Palillos (Two toothpicks/chopsticks).
Els Casals is a culinary and hotel initiative started up by the Rovira family in 2000. Since its outset, the establishment has been linked to the family agricultural and livestock business, Cal Rovira. Humble and rigorous, genuine and open. Farmers and chefs seek to bring the best of our market garden, forest and farm to your table.

Closing Circles

Closing Circles is the expression of a way of doing things, the philosophy of making things in the traditional way and of controlling all the production processes. Our proposal is to discover these circles, which begin in the earth and end up on your plate. There are tours of the farm all year round, followed by the tasting of the products in the restaurant.

Contemporary Catalan cuisine

Our aim is to make contemporary Catalan cuisine, using the produce of the land and the flavours of our traditional, or dare we say, classic, dishes. We want our customers to leave the Hisop with the sensation that they have enjoyed their meal and more particularly that they have had a great time.

Mediterranean roots with the fusion of styles and techniques

Hofmann is the restaurant of the Hofmann Hotel and Catering School, reflecting a contemporary culinary philosophy through creative dishes and exquisite desserts. Its culinary philosophy fuses styles and techniques, the traditional and the avant-garde; a cuisine with decidedly Mediterranean roots with dishes that tap into Catalan cuisine based on the meticulous selection of ingredients and prepared with affection and a presentation where there is no room for improvisation.
Dishes from yesterday, with a touch of today

Our cooking focuses on the products of the land, albeit with a modern reading. We experiment with traditional ingredients that share the table with foie gras and tartars, the pairings discover different flavours, and our bold sauces blend new elements. Diners are treated simply and warmly to make them feel at home. The culinary premise is simplicity, using no more than two or three ingredients in each dish. The idea is to make sure that they all sit well with each other, that nothing is superfluous but nothing is missing, because, as Francesc himself says, cooking should be easy.

A gastronomic experience in a unique setting

Totally self-taught, Lluís Feliu is committed to an honest, direct cuisine that pampers the product. He relies on good raw material, paying special attention to cooking temperatures, seeking, through the dish, the balance between novelty and colour in contrast to the influence of local and traditional cuisine, his favourite sources.
A unique eating experience in the heart of Montseny

The Restaurant Les Magnòlies d’Arbúcies basically offers two menus, the market menu and the gastronomic menu, as well as a small à la carte selection. The house chef has enlisted a team of young professionals to achieve his main commitment: customer pleasure and satisfaction.

Creativity and territory

Creative signature cuisine with a few fun surprises, but all made with local products from Terres de l’Ebre and the Sénia. Our most representative offer is our tasting menu, that features 20 different items that we renew every year towards the end of February in our desire to deliver sensory experiences that go beyond mere taste or flavour.
Barcelona  Restaurant Lluerna  🌟

Restaurant located in the heart of Santa Coloma de Gramenet, 15 minutes from the centre of Barcelona. The restaurant has eight tables, one of them in the wine cellar, which can hold up to eight people. The cellar stocks 150 wines chosen by the sommelier and co-owner Mar Gómez. The establishment was awarded a Michelin Star in 2013 and 2014, and the chef Víctor Quintilla was named best young chef in 2013 by the Catalan Academy of Gastronomy.

Mas Pau has had one Michelin Guide star since 1996, and offers a Catalan author’s cuisine which has always tapped into the traditional recipes of the Empordà region, in a personal and imaginative fashion. The restaurant is part of a charming 20-room Suite-type hotel. Hotel&Restaurant Mas Pau is run by the chef Xavier Sagrista, a disciple of Ferran Adrià who managed El Bulli for more than 10 years alongside Adrià, and the head waiter and sommelier Toni Gerez, who also notched up more than a decade of experience at El Bulli.

Catalan author’s cuisine

The Mas Pau restaurant was founded in 1960 by the Reig family. This Sixteenth-Century farmhouse was completely restored, adapted and decorated with valuable antiques to create the ideal stage for the great gastronomic theatre it undoubtedly is. It offers a seasonal a la carte menu that is changed four times a year, plus daily gastronomic menus we are sure you will love.

Seasonal cuisine. From tradition to modernity

Tickets Bar

This project was conceived by Albert Adrià, who after several years in the Inopia bar decided to develop a proposal that was limited by the premises’ size. He secured the enthusiastic help of his brother Ferran, who immediately took to the project’s cultural dimension. The Iglesias brothers, Juan Carlos, Borja and Pedro, owners of the Restaurant Rías de Galicia, a flagship seafood eatery in Barcelona, also joined the project with the same enthusiasm.

La vida tapa, gastronomy and a philosophy for life

For us, La vida tapa is a global concepts that links gastronomy to a way of understanding life. A fun way of eating that turns the customer into an actor in a play, a chorus girl in a variety show, a vaudeville circus, the star of an intermezzo. A stage on which life itself is acted out. In La vida tapa there is no room for boredom, sadness or loneliness; it is all about laughs, togetherness and good company.

Restaurant El Torreó de l’Indià

Thus named because in the last century, on entering the village, the first thing people saw was a house that belonged to the Martí family, who had made its fortune in the Americas. It is located inside the Hotel Villa Retiro complex, in the former coach depot, and has three small rooms managed by the Chef Francesc López, who offers customers a dynamic menu according to market products.

Traditional Mediterranean cuisine revisited

Enjoy a cuisine based on the Mediterranean diet, with updated traditional and typical dishes and creations, as well as other new concepts and techniques with the utmost respect for local and seasonal products. In 2009, Fran López’s restaurant was awarded its first Michelin Star, which it has maintained to this day.

Gastronomy
Catalonia produces some of the most prestigious and award-winning wines: fresh and elegant whites, harmonious and personal reds, fruity and sublime cava... Twelve designations of origin with the best the land has to offer.

Catalan wines have reached the best tables in the world, and some bottles have been sold for the highest prices in the major international auction houses, world showcases of exclusiveness. Wine-making in Catalonia has a qualified designation of origin, the DOQ Priorat, and a further ten equally-renowned designations of origin: the DO Penedès, Empordà, Montsant, Alella, Pla de Bages, Conca de Barberà, Terra Alta, Tarragona, Costers del Segre and Catalunya. Without forgetting the DO Cava, the hallmark of fresh and excellent sparkling wines.

All of these designations of origin yield wines that are recommended by the best wine experts and sommeliers. The vineyard and wines are scenarios around which tasting sessions are organised, as well as visits to historic wineries, plus other totally personalisable wine-related experiences amid crops and postcard-like villages.
Bodegas Torres dates from the year 1870, although its Visitors Centre opened in 1992. Since then we have brought wine tourism closer to thousands of visitors from all over the world. In fact, last year some 125,000 people came to enjoy our environment and our activities.

Catalonia has truly unique artistic treasures, the result of centuries of history and the unbounded creativity of geniuses of the stature of Gaudí, Miró, Dalí and Picasso, universal examples of truly exceptional art.

A paradigm of elegance, the slender Sagrada Família is a fine example of the artistic genius that pervades this land. Catalonia is a leading cultural focal point, a land of universal authors - Antoni Gaudí, Salvador Dalí, Joan Miró, Antoni Tàpies, Pau Casals... - and a privileged stage for the work of many other prestigious names in painting, sculpture and architecture of different periods and styles: Picasso, Botero, Chillida, Van Der Rohe, Foster, Isozaki...
The country has 400 museums, 1,800 monuments of national interest and some ten popular venues and events classified as World Heritage sites.

Catalonia has some 400 museums and collections - the Picasso and Dalí Museums are among the most visited - 1,800 monuments listed as National Cultural Heritage, and several UNESCO World Heritage Sites: the massive Roman legacy of Tarragona and its surrounding area, the modernism of Gaudí and Domènech i Montaner, the Romanesque architecture of the Boí Valley, the impressive Cistercian monastery of Poblet, and Mediterranean cave art. The same status is accorded to utterly unique festivities and traditions of great historical value: the castells (human towers), a veritable splash of festivity, colour and tradition, and the ancient festivity of the Patum in Berga. Other popular cultural events and emblematic sites, such as the sanctuary and mountain of Montserrat, are a first-order cultural and social reference.

In performing arts, Catalonia stages prestigious international festivals and has cultural facilities of the highest level, such as the Palau de la Música, L’Auditori and the Gran Teatre del Liceu in Barcelona, one of the world’s oldest and finest opera temples where the greatest performers from all over the world are called upon to perform.
Casa Batlló, Antoni Gaudí’s architectural jewel, is his most poetic composition. A UNESCO World Heritage Site since 2005, more than a building it is a myth of art, architecture and design of all times. It is a unique, singular and inimitable work of architecture that fascinates everyone and is expressed with stunning creative freedom and unheard-of formal perfection.

Daily cultural visits with audio guide and exclusive events

Casa Batlló seduces visitors through its extreme design and vast repertoire of visual solutions nesting on the inside, as well as the sinuous form and colours of Gaudí’s vocabulary. Lasting approximately one hour, this visit includes the legendary main floor, the fabulous patio, the attic, roof and mythical chimneys. There is also an audio guide available in ten languages. Over 3,000 m² available for the most unique and exclusive events in Passeig de Gràcia. Gift shop with unique products.

Aborigens Barcelona proposes unique gastronomic routes, tasting sessions, activities and experiences to showcase Catalan cuisine. At the same time we conceive projects and create events for a single purpose: to live and enjoy food without inhibitions or hang-ups.

Pirineus Nit i Vol - Vol de Coloms

Since 1992, our company has been organising balloon flights over the Natural Park of the Volcanic Area of La Garrotxa. This Park lies between the Pyrenees and the Costa Brava, a region of contrasts: mountains, forests, rivers, volcanoes, elements that all afford the balloon flight over these places a special value.

A special celebration with breakfast at 2000 metres

An unforgettable surprise for a special occasion: happy birthday, I love you, will you marry me? Ask your partner to marry you or wish a loved one a happy birthday as you fly over Catalonia’s volcanoes in a balloon. Float over the invisible paths of the wind while you say “will you marry me?” and put the ring on their finger. Or... Happy Birthday! A toast with cava and traditional crackling cake for a high-flying celebration. On the same day as the balloon trip, you can also enjoy a tasting menu at the Les Cols restaurant, which has 2 Michelin stars. You will remember it all your life!
