Seven reasons to play golf in Catalonia

1 For the climate: Catalonia enjoys a mild climate and average annual temperatures of between 18° and 23°C, which allows you to golf all year round.

2 For the courses: the majority of the Catalan golf courses are designed by renowned architects.

3 For the environment: Catalonia's peculiar orography provides the golfers with varied landscapes; with courses on the sea, at the foot of the mountain, surrounded by forests and in the centre of the plains.

4 For the connections: thanks to its four international airports, Catalonia is very well connected with the main European capitals.

5 For the food: the Catalan cuisine is world renowned thanks to the collective strength of its restaurants and producers.

6 For its tourist options: Catalonia hosts a wide variety of artistic, festive and leisure events all throughout the year, with a lot you won't want to miss.

7 For the people: although you may only be in Catalonia as a tourist, the character and the friendly treatment of the Catalans will make you feel at home.

In this publication, you'll find the best golf courses in Catalonia. Well worth a look!

Built in an immense pine forest in front of the white sandy beach of Pals, it is the oldest course on the Costa Brava and is considered one of the best in the country. Designed by F.W. Hawtree, this course is able to excite all types of players, from fresh novices to the experts. It emphasizes the utmost respect for nature that both the designer and the promoters demonstrated from the beginning. With the celebration of the Spanish Open in 1972, Golf de Pals became the venue for the first PGA European Tour Circuit, followed by numerous amateur and professional championships. The course offers golf schools, equipment rental, is close to a major accommodations and has direct access to the La Costa Golf & Beach Resort. The tourist, landscape and gastronomic environment is excellent. ♡

Golf Montanyà is a beautiful facility, built amidst the forests of the Montseny Natural Park. Located in the northwestern area of the park, it was declared a Natural Park and Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO in 1978. It rests at 779m above sea level. This provides extreme abundance and luxuriance, with one of the best environments in Europe. At this Montanyà course, you can feel the balance between the pleasure of golf and the contemplation of nature.

Designed by David Thomas, it was inaugurated in 1989, inviting the most demanding golfers to play 18 holes, enjoying the game and the wonderful surroundings, then savouring the in-house cuisine. The fame of the cuisine brings together two different but complementary pursuits: golf and gastronomy. 📍
